

Policy by Pacifica National Election Supervisor Terry Bouricius Addressing One-Year and Three-Year LSB Terms.

In the event that an election must fill some seats for three-year terms and others for one or two-year terms (due to extended terms resulting from an election failure due to quorum or other reasons), these procedures shall be used to determine which winning candidates receive which terms. If a winning candidate is currently serving, and a three-year term combined with the years already served consecutively would total more than the term limit mandated in these bylaws in Article 4, Section 8, that winning candidate shall automatically get one of the shorter term seats. If the remaining winning candidates exceed the number of three-year seats left to fill, then the order in which the STV tally establishes winning candidates shall determine which candidates get the three-year seats, with those being elected first getting the three-year seats until no more three-year seats are available, with the remaining winning candidates getting the shorter term seats.
